Hundreds Sign Petitions For Removal of Phones

7 MEETINGS CONDUCTED IN ORANGE COUNTY

Board of Managers Named to Carry Out Plans For Mutual System

CIRCULATE PAPERS TO QUIT PHONE SERVICE

Attorney Horace Head Takes Rap at Railroad Board and Burleson

HUNDREDS of telephone subscribers throughout the county last night signed orders for the removal of their phones under the provisions of the petitions circulated at the various meetings held to take action on the organization of a mutual system and in ordering out phones. Hundreds more are signing papers now in circulation.

Meetings were held in seven of the nine Pacific exchange districts in the county. No meeting was held in the Huntington Beach exchange district, because there has been no very great change in conditions and the subscribers seem to be satisfied. Newport Beach held no meeting, but petitions are in circulation there today.

The men upon whom will devolve the responsibility for developing a plan for carrying out the wishes of the telephone subscribers in the organization of a mutual system, were named at the various exchange meetings. They are: Horace Head, Santa Ana; Wm. Belding, Tustin; E. W. Bolinger, Orange; Chas. Eysenbrod, Anaheim; L. P. Drake, Fullerton; H. A. Lake, Garden Grove; H. H. Hale, Placentia. They will be known as the Board of Managers.

"The telephone is a great convenience, but we can get along without it. The Railroad Commission is not working in the interest of the public but for the benefit of the corporations. It is owned and controlled by corporations. We can't get help from the commission, we can't get help from Burleson. Someone has said he is an ass, and I believe it is true. It is up to us to do for ourselves, and the organization of a mutual system is the method for us to adopt to get relief from the burdens that have been imposed on us. We can do it, regardless of the railroad commission. Let us do it."

Attorney Head Applauded.

These strong statements were made by Horace Head, local attorney, and member of the county committee handling the preliminaries to the mass meetings, at the Santa Ana mass meeting at the city hall. He made them in the course of his remarks announcing the purpose of the gathering. He was applauded to the echo when he had finished.

R. J. Thompson was chosen chairman and J. C. Metzger secretary, and the session got under way in an active manner immediately following organization.

"One of the purposes of this meeting is to order out phones," said Head, continuing his address. "It will be an effective manner of expressing our disapproval of the grab the company is making, and we want to put the telephone company out of commission if we can and eliminate it as a factor in the county."

"The commission has said that it will not permit the institution of another system that will come into direct competition with the company. If we organize a non-profit sharing organization we can put it over. We can put the company out of business if we don't use its phones. If seventy-five per cent of the subscribers sign an order for removal, the remaining twenty-five per cent will get little service for the cost."

"The company can put the rates as high as it wants to, but it can't force us to use the phones. We expect to

Woman 82 Sues for Divorce; Blames all On Mother-in-Law

WENATCHEE, Wash., May 21.—Mrs. Ellen S. Cooley, 82, has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Ferdinand Cooley, 70, on the grounds that his mother, 92, has alienated his affections.

The wife, who was a wealthy spinster of 67 when Cooley courted and won her, says that they were the happiest of honeymooners for fifteen years until her mother-in-law arrived at the home.

All of which proves that this mother-in-law problem is as yet unsolved.

HOUSE VOTES TO GIVE WOMEN BALLOT

WASHINGTON, May 21.—American women today won the first battle for the vote when the House passed the suffrage amendment to the Federal constitution. The vote on the suffrage amendment was 304 to 88.

The vote was a complete rout for the opponents of suffrage. When the resolution passed the House on January 10, 1918, it had but one vote to spare.

Representative Mann, who forced the vote today was given an ovation by Republican and Democratic friends of suffrage the moment the vote was announced. Mann called the resolution before the House declaring that he would not permit the opposition to delay action.

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania asked whether hearings had been held before the suffrage committee at which both sides had been considered.

"Hearings have been held on this question for more than 50 years," Mann replied amid applause. Moore then asked that action be postponed a few days, but Mann refused to agree. There was but short debate and the roll call was completed shortly after 3 o'clock.

N. C. 4 FLIGHT IS DELAYED BY MOTOR TROUBLE

Navy Officials Will Take No Chances With Only One Craft Left

DAMAGED N. C. 3 WILL BE SENT BACK TO U. S.

Commander Towers Says Some of N. C. 1 Crew Suffered Minor Casualties

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Because of engine trouble, the NC-4 has been forced to postpone her "hop off"—expected today—from Ponta Delgada to Lisbon, an early dispatch to the navy department announced.

Admiral Jackson, in a radio filed at 4:30 a. m. (Washington time) and reaching here at 7:23 this morning, said:

"NC-4 will not leave today. One engine not functioning properly."

With only one seaplane now left upon which the success of the trans-Atlantic venture depends, navy officials said today no chances would be taken with either the machine or the weather until both promised as near perfect functioning as possible.

Commander Towers has decided that his "flagship," NC-3, is in no condition after weathering the heavy seas for many hours to resume her journey. As a result, he has reported, she will be shipped back to the United States. Towers further disclosed in his report, received here last evening, that "minor casualties" were suffered by some of the crew of the ill-fated NC-1, which sank at sea while being towed to port.

It was held possible here today that Commander Towers might accompany the NC-4 on the remainder of the journey to England.

There has been no word, however, that the personnel of the NC-4 will be other than that which successfully made the flight to Ponta Delgada.

AFTER LISBON FLIGHT, NC-4 MAY MAKE TRIP TO ENGLAND BY W. R. HARGRAVES

(United Press Staff Correspondent) PONTA DELGADA, Azores, May 21.—When the NC-4, now preparing for its next hop, arrives at Lisbon, the actual trans-Atlantic flight will be completed and to the United States navy will go the glory of accomplishing this historic feat. But, if the NC-4 is still in good condition on reaching Lisbon, the flight will be continued to Plymouth, England, the following day. Members of the NC-3 were feted as heroes here last night.

Commander Towers and the men of the NC-3, the flagship which has been forced to drop out of the contest because of damage sustained while drifting on the surface, were anxious to see Read make a good start in the NC-4. There was much comment here on the fact that the NC-4, which lagged behind at the start because of engine trouble, and for a while seemed hopelessly out of it, is the only one of three machines to remain in the race.

Men of the NC-3 declared that one of the reasons for their own machine's elimination was the sudden storm into which they ran while approaching the Azores. Towers declared that while they were drifting the morale never cracked.

The men never showed they believed hope was lost. They were forced to drink radiator water and had only chocolate to eat. They smoked cigarettes to keep awake. The men are now anxious to continue the trip, although their hands are raw from taking turns pumping water out of the leaky NC-3 to keep it afloat during the long hours they were in danger of death. The NC-3 is a wreck, but the engines are intact. The NC-1 was sunk northwest of Horta, according to reports received here.

SANTA ANA DRY FORCES FIGHT LAW CHANGE

At the meeting of the Santa Ana W. C. T. U. yesterday immediate and vigorous action was taken in protest against the proposal of President Wilson to release the manufacture of wines and beers from the war-time prohibition regulations.

The sentiment expressed at the meeting was decidedly and emphatically against any change in the prohibition regulations that are to go into effect on July 1.

The protest took the form of telegrams, which were dispatched at once to United States Senators Johnson and Phelan and Congressman Kettner, at Washington, D. C. These men are urged to oppose any effort to amend or repeal the war-time prohibition measure, and they especially urge that no amendment be allowed that will be any concession to the beer and wine traffic.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 21.—Expressions of regret that a "ruling elder" and "fellow churchman" should recommend to Congress repeal of part of the war-time prohibition act was contained in a resolution cabled today to President Wilson by the Presbyterian general assembly.

The resolution was introduced by Henry C. Needham, Los Angeles, Cal. The vote was unanimous. It was further resolved that "we most earnestly petition Congress that it not only retain the measure, but that it be enforced to the fullest extent."

FLOATING CANNERY IS BURNED OFF MEXICO

SAN PEDRO, May 21.—The floating cannery John O. Rorth has been destroyed by fire off the coast of Mexico according to word brought here today by the power schooner Rex, arriving from Mexican ports.

What the total loss amounts to could not be learned.

The Rorth was sent to Mexican waters a few weeks ago by the Van Camp Food Products Company to handle the first run of tuna in that region. It is a built over sailing vessel and was equipped with expensive machinery.

Noted Couple Add Another Set of Photographs to Large Collection

SANTA BARBARA, May 21.—No, the W. G. McAdoos have not gone into the movies.

That is, they are not sure-enough movie stars or even "extras" although Mr. McAdoo is drawing a princely salary as counsel for the recent combination of big film stars.

A short time ago while the guest of Douglas Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo went out on location with their host while he was filming part of a western picture. They had a lot of cowboy paraphernalia with them and Fairbanks concluded it would be a good idea to give the McAdoos a new kind of picture for their library.

Accordingly, he had them don western garb and pose with him before the camera. Besides the still pictures made of the trio, some film records were also made for Mr. McAdoo's personal library, which contains many other bits of film wherein he figures.

DEFENSE COMMITTEE FORMED IN PETROGRAD

STOCKHOLM, May 21.—A Swedish correspondent in Petrograd reported that a "proletarian defense committee," headed by M. Zinovieff, has been formed there. The committee, he said, had ordered mobilization of all men under forty and had requisitioned all horses for the red army.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE IS LIABLE TO TRIAL

LONDON, May 21.—Andrew Bonar Law, government spokesman, speaking in the House of Commons late yesterday, said the former German crown prince and prison camp commandant are liable to trial under the terms of the treaty.

6,000 ST. PAUL MEN ARE OUT ON STRIKE

ST. PAUL, May 21.—Because master building did not meet demands of common laborers for increased wages, the Building Trades Council called a general building trades strike today. George Grenville, president of the council, said between 5000 and 6000 men quit work.

S. D. TEACHERS ASK MORE PAY SAN DIEGO, May 21.—Teachers in the San Diego public schools have today effected an organization and will ask the board of education for higher pay. Grade teachers ask a minimum of $1,000 and high school teachers a minimum of $1500.

NEW WAR WILL BRING STRIKE OF WOMEN

BY RUDOLPH KOMMER

(United Press Staff Correspondent) ZURICH, May 18.—The International Congress of Women voted unanimously at its concluding session today to call a world-wide strike of women in event another war is declared.

The proposal was made by Fraulein Hertzke, a delegate from Vienna. It was carried after an amendment had been added providing that the strike should be called even if the war was sanctioned by the League of Nations.

The conference also resolved to send a delegation to the meeting of the international socialist conference at Lausanne in August to ask that all socialists refuse military service in case of a new war.

A delegation was named to submit these recommendations to the peace conference. It included Mrs. Despard of Great Britain; Madame Ragaz of Switzerland and Signora eGnora of Italy.

Mrs. Despard, a sister of Lord French, introduced a resolution demanding representation for women in the League of Nations and proposed Miss Jane Addams of Chicago as the first woman representative. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Miss Addams, in an interview with the United Press, expressed deep satisfaction with the work of the congress.

"The intensity of spirit and unity is most gratifying," she said.

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—A world-wide strike of women, such as proposed at the Zurich International Congress of Women, would have to take the form more of a general protest against war than of anything involving more direct action, in the opinion of Mrs. Georgia P. Bullock, noted woman attorney of Los Angeles.

"I don't see what could be done beyond a general protest," Mrs. Bullock declared today. "The plan is so new it would be difficult to predict its effect."

DATE WILL BE FIXED TO SIGN TERMS

Precautions Taken By Allies If Germans Refuse Pact Deemed Significant

TREATY WITH AUSTRIA IS ALMOST COMPLETED

Wilson Will Not Ask Britain For Safe Conduct of Irish Delegates

PARIS, May 21.—The time limit for the Germans to present counter proposals to the peace treaty has been extended one week by the Big Four it was announced officially this afternoon. The time limit was originally set for tomorrow.

After the "big four" completes perusal of these last communications the date will be fixed upon which the Germans must definitely accept or refuse the terms. This will depend upon the nature of the observations. There is no indication, however, that the treaty will be changed in any way.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Progress of assembling the Austrian treaty has been such that it is now believed that it may be ready for signature at practically the same time as the German document. It is probable that the Austrians will not be given more than a week for discussion of the terms. The disposition of the Austrian delegates indicate there will be little quibbling over the terms.

In the normal course of events, it is estimated that President Wilson will be able to depart for the United States about June 7.

Will Germans Sign?

Although the Allied delegates continue optimistic, there is more actual question as to whether the Germans will sign than when they first arrived at Versailles. It is regarded as significant that the Allies are not overlooking the precaution.

Evidence of this was seen in deferring General Pershing's visit to England, scheduled for today. The postponement was said to be a precaution in the event the Germans refuse to sign. Pershing attended a full meeting of the American peace commissioners late yesterday.

The Petit Parisien said today that Brockdorff-Rantzau sent a tenth note to the Allies last night.

Won't Speak for Irish

President Wilson, it was said today, will not intervene in behalf of the request that Great Britain be asked to assure safe convoy for the Irish delegates—Edward de Valera, Count Plunkett and Arthur Griffiths. This request was made of Secretary Lansing by Edward Dunne, Michael Ryan and Frank P. Walsh, representing Irish societies in America. Lansing turned the matter over to the President.

The Korean delegation today made public a petition to the peace conference demanding freedom from Japan. It also gave out a letter to Wilson, in which the following charges were made:

"Japan's continental policy aims, first, at seizure of the hegemony of Asia through denominational control of the manpower and resources of China, which is possible only through Japan's possession of Korea and, secondly, mastery of the Pacific as the only means of forcing Japanese immigrants into the rich lands of Australia and the Pacific seashore of the United States, constituting conversion of the Pacific into a Japanese lake."

get seventy-five percent of the users in the county to order their phones out. When we do this, where will the company be?"

Favor Definite Action.

A number of people present expressed themselves on the matter and all were in favor of definite action. The sentiment prevailed that even should the telephones be returned to private ownership and rates restored to what they were prior to March 1, the movement to organize a mutual system should proceed.

Voluntary contributions for the employment of a man to circulate the papers ordering out phones and approving the organization of a mutual system resulted in a fund of $31.60. Secretary Metzgar was charged with responsibility for the disbursement of the money and this morning employed B. Y. Neal to circulate the papers.

Neal will start on his campaign tomorrow. Heads of families are requested to discuss the subject with members of their families so that when Neal calls at a residence some one will have authority to sign the papers in case the head of the house is not at home. This will facilitate the work and make it possible for the city to be canvassed with less expense than if the solicitor has to make several calls.

Neal resides at 611 Hickey street and his phone number is 1499-W. Parties can get in touch with him either by phone or by calling at his house, should they want to get information. Those who want information or want to sign will also be accommodated at the Chamber of Commerce.

Blanks have been placed in all the banks and the drug stores of the city and those who can be requested to drop around and sign them. Securing of signatures is a big task because of the large number to be seen, and volunteer signing at the business houses or Chamber of Commerce will help materially in the campaign.

That the business men of the city are not very deeply interested in the movement was evidenced last night. Very few business firms were represented, the attendance being mostly of residence subscribers.

Will Canvass Residences.

It was the plan of the county committee to work mostly among residence subscribers, particularly in this city, leaving the business men for attention when 75 per cent of the outside phone users had signed the order out blanks.

A motion prevailed last night that business men should be solicited at once, and this will be followed here. Every seat in the council chamber was occupied, the attendance being a little over 100. Before adjournment seventy-two subscribers signed the papers.

Motions approving the organization of a mutual system and the plan of ordering out phones were passed at all the mass meetings. In some instances many volunteered their services in circulating the papers, and at other meetings funds were raised for hiring the work done. Today many solicitors are out in the various districts with the papers.

Fullerton took action that was not duplicated in any of the other gatherings. A resolution was passed that in event the service and rates in vogue prior to March 1 should in the future be reinstated, that those whose phones have been removed, refuse to renew their subscriptions unless the company puts the phones in free of cost for installation. Subscribers at this meeting said that they had been approached by representatives of the phone company and presented with plans whereby they could make certain changes and reduce the exchange charges on their individual phones.

Reports at the Anaheim meeting indicated that the business men of that city were heart and soul in the movement. Men circulating the papers said that practically every business man approached by them had signed. It is understood that the business men of Santa Ana are in hearty accord with the mutual plan, but that they do not want to remove their phones until another system is in operation to give them the service they require in their business activities.

The county committee will meet in this city Friday night, when reports of the progress of the campaign for signatures will be heard. It is probable that the committee then will pass further action up to the Board of Managers.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Delegates from 144 boys' clubs in the United States and Canada were here today at the opening of the three days' conference on the problems of youth, held under the auspices of the boys' club federation.

The delegates range in age from 14 to 19 and they hope to find a panacea for the chronic troubles of boyhood.

AMERICAN BODY DOESN'T FAVOR PEACE PACT

Regular Rivers and Harbors Bill, For Trading, Says One Member

(Copyright 1919 by United Press)

PARIS, May 21.—The resignation of nine members of the American Peace commission has brought to light the fact that their sentiments against the treaty are shared by a great portion of the American commission. Inquiries indicate that a considerable majority of the American commission disapprove the treaty and no member has been found who would give unqualified approval.

The nearest approach to approval is the statement of several members that the treaty is bad, but that the league of nations covenant redeems it.

Others condemn Wilson for approving the treaty although they defend his sincerity and say the creation of the league of nations was a bigger task than many believed.

They criticize particularly the Shantung, Saar Valley and Italian settlements. Members of the peace bureau which has been engaged for the last two years under Col. House gathering data declared their data never has been used and that representatives of the other nations came to Paris only to barter and trade.

"The treaty is a regular river and harbors bill," one member of the commission declared today. "The President found himself involved in a trading game in order to get the league of nations through. I hope the world finds he has not paid too great a price."

Many take for granted that congress will hold an inquiry into the methods of framing the peace treaty.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The senate foreign relations committee is planning an inquiry into the procedure by which the peace treaty with Germany was framed it became known today. The committee will seek to learn what points the President yielded in order to obtain approval of the league of nations.

WILL SET DATE SOON TO SIGN PEACE PACT

to aid in revision of the treaty of 1839, is in conference with the council of foreign ministers and Belgian representatives. The following demands have been made by Belgium:

First, annulment of the clause of the treaty of 1839 binding them to perpetual neutrality. They point out this failed to save them from invasion in 1914, and insist on their right now to make alliances and take other steps to protect themselves against future aggression.

Second, revision of the clause which cuts off Antwerp from the sea. They declare this clause, which gives Holland possession of the left bank of the Scheidt, prevented the revictualling of Antwerp in 1914, and also resulted in the internment of 30,000 Belgian soldiers who crossed into Dutch territory on the west bank.

Third, removal of the constant menace to the Belgian border created by the peninsula of Dutch Limberg, which runs down into Belgium, crossing the Meuse near Maasricht. They point out this prevented them from holding the Meuse line in 1914 and likewise permitted the escape of a portion of the German army in 1918.

While Belgium's claims have impressed the peace conference to the extent of making provision in the present German treaty for revision of the objectionable clause of the treaty of 1839 there is no indication that the Dutch intend to concede any vital points without putting up a hard diplomatic fight. It is understood the Dutch will especially resist yielding any territory. They are expected, too, to oppose Belgium's desire for complete sovereignty over the Scheidt. The Dutch delegation is prepared, among other things, to demonstrate the full value of Dutch neutrality during the war.

GERMAN COUNTER PROPOSALS REGARDING PEACE, COMPLETED BY CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent) BERLIN, May 20.—Germany's counter proposals regarding the peace treaty are complete so far as Berlin is concerned, it was learned from an authoritative source today. The communications are believed to have been forwarded to Versailles last night. The government is understood to have claimed these are Germany's utmost concessions. They are said to propose a plebiscite in the eastern provinces, elimination of French control over the Saar basin and alteration of the provisions for taking over German merchant ships.

Fearing serious outbreaks in Silesia, the government had dispatched large forces of troops to that district.

IN THREE MONTHS BIG ACREAGE IS SET OUT

Riverside Enterprise: As nearly as County Horticultural Commissioner Sharp can reckon from his field reports, the deciduous acreage in Riverside county has been increased by 2,600 acres during the last three months. The period of planting has almost come to an end. Mr. Sharpe judges from the official statements of importations of nursery trees and from reports of trees sold by our local nurserymen. It has, with one exception, been the largest planting of deciduous trees in the history of the county. In 1909 the planting was over 3,700 acres.

Peaches have been the bulk of the season's planting, and the most of these have been set in orchards in the San Jacinto and Hemet localities. In the region of Hemet about 1,250 acres have been made into orchards since January. In the Beaumont, Banning and Wireville districts something like 400 more acres have been planted to peaches. The trees will be in full bearing in 1925 and will be yielding profitable crops four years from now.

Next in acreage set are apricots. In the Hemet and San Jacinto sections the largest plantings have been made. One rancher has set out an orchard of 75 acres. The new apricot acreage over in the region of the new canneries at Wireville is much larger than usual, while the Beaumont and Bannings acreage has had an increase of about 250 acres. Elsinore has had an increase in apricot growing of about 140 acres.

Then there is at least an increase of 150 or 200 acres in other varieties of fruits, such as nectarines, quinces, pears and a few avocados. In the higher districts about Beaumont the planting of apples has been more important than in any year since 1911.

CERTIFICATE DRIVE STARTS TOMORROW

The drive to sell certificates for the creation of a fund to build an improved highway from Merced to the Yosemite valley starts tomorrow and will continue until June 7.

Automobile men of the state and chambers of commerce are back of the plan and it is believed the drive can be put over by the date set. One million dollars in $5 certificates will be sold.

The certificates are redeemable at any time at the Yosemite, being accepted in lieu of the $5 entrance fee to the wonder of wonderlands.

Hundreds of automobilists in the state are interested in the project by reason of their traveling to the Yosemite. Those who contemplate a visit to the place should not fail to buy one or more of the certificates.

Certificates probably will be available at the local Chamber of Commerce and many of the garages in the city.

TO BUILD ROAD BY DAY LABOR: REJECT BID

Supervisors to Pave One-third Mile Santiago Boulevard; Magnolia Ave. Accepted

Rejecting a lone bid by Wells and Bressler for paving one-third of a mile, connecting the Santiago boulevard completed pavement across Santiago creek above Villa Park and connecting two sections of completed roadway, the Board of Supervisors yesterday decided to lay the pavement by day labor. The job is to be under the supervision of N. T. Edwards, road commissioner for that district. The supervisors held that Wells and Bressler's bid of $4,131.31 was too high, and believe they can save money by the use of day labor on the work.

A. J. Kuss was granted a franchise for the stage line from Santa Ana to El Toro and Serra, for a period of five years, with privilege of using a sixteen-passenger bus.

Spraying licenses were granted to H. E. Erwin, Edwin A. Haueter, and E. M. Christensen.

The petition of the Union Oil company for a pipeline and telephone franchise was continued to June 4 at 2 p. m.

The purchase of a vertical map filing cabinet for use in the surveyor's office, to cost less than $300, was authorized.

The purchasing agent and Supervisor Edwards were authorized to purchase one or two Holstein cows for the County Farm.

Road right-of-way deeds were accepted from R. E. Vaughn and George Clothier, owning property at Syress, in preparation for paving there.

L. Fred Admitson was granted permission to lay an irrigating pipe line across Anaheim road in the Placentia Acres tract.

W. L. Salisbury was given permission to lay a 12-inch pipe across Chapman avenue a quarter of a mile west of the Garden Grove road.

An extension of time to July 3 was granted the Redondo Construction company, which is paving the Bixby Hill strip of road near Los Alamitos.

H. E. Hart was appointed justice of the peace at La Habra for the unexpired term of Henry O. Price, who failed to qualify after his election.

The petition of S. W. Price et al to open a road south of Bolsa was continued to June 17.

The petition of Edmund G. Stone et al to abandon a portion of Maple street at Westminster was granted.

The application of C. R. Clapp and others to abandon a small piece of road at Laguna Beach was dismissed with the consent of the petitioner.

George J. Brown was granted permission for a pipe line across Mitchell avenue.

The Magnolia avenue paving laid by the Redondo Construction company to replace worn-out pavement near Buena Park was accepted as completed.

Estimates of the cost of collecting taxes for four municipalities whose taxes are collected by the county were read, and the cities affected were ordered to be charged the following amounts: Fullerton, $649; Santa Ana, $472; Stanton, $35; Seal Beach, $63.

Adjournment was taken to June 3 at 10 a. m.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Shepherd of the Hills"
The author, Harold Bell Wright, with Elsie Reynolds, his publisher, has formed a company which will be known as the Harold Bell Wright Story-Picture Corporation, which will place upon the screen the best known of Mr. Wright's works. This announcement should be of interest not only to the countless millions of Mr. Wright's readers, as well as the leading motion picture producers, theater managers and all others connected with the promotion of the motion picture industry, for in placing the stories of Mr. Wright in pictures a wealth of new and fine material will be given to the motion picture camera.

Any one of this author's stories contains enough drama to make several motion pictures, and they should take a pre-eminent place in a field where a dearth of good material is often felt. The first story to be pictured is "The Shepherd of the Hills," perhaps the best loved of all of Mr. Wright's stories, will be on at the Temple Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The author and his associates have been working for months on this production. The picture has been taken in the heart of the Ozarks and in California. It is a ten-reel super-production with incidental music forming an evening's entertainment.

FRENCH ALLIANCE

The proposal of a virtual American alliance with France may arouse more debate than any other matter growing out of the peace conference. It is well that it should be clearly understood before it comes to a decision.

It should be recognized, first of all,
that this is not a part of the peace treaty. It is a purely informal and unofficial proposal. France wants a pledge from Great Britain and the United States that they will come to her aid if she is ever again attacked by Germany without provocation. The British government seems willing to give such a pledge. President Wilson, of course, has no authority to commit the United States to it. He has promised the French government that he will submit the proposal to the United States Senate. The decision will rest with that body.

The first impulse of every intelligent American citizen is to inquire why such a step should be considered necessary, when the League of Nations has been supposed to guarantee the safety of all its members, including France, and to make all alliances superfluous. The answer is that France wants to make assurance doubly sure.

President Wilson himself, who can hardly be said to have shown any special enthusiasm for the project, seems at least to find no great objection to it. His position is that such an agreement would only make specific and definite an obligation already covered by the provisions of the League Covenant. That puts the matter in about the same light as the Monroe Doctrine, which, according to the view of the President and many others, was guaranteed by the Covenant, and which was nevertheless given special sanction in deference to American opinion.

It may not be precisely accurate to describe the arrangement proposed as an "alliance." But it looks very much like it to the ordinary American. And this same ordinary American has been brought up on a deep-seated prejudice against anything of the kind. There is probably a willingness in this country to go to the aid of France again
if she is brutally attacked and needs our help. We have not forgotten, and never will forget, the services rendered by France in our own revolution, nor her heroic conduct in this war. But as for an absolute pledge of armed support, that is something about which the American public and the American senate will hesitate, and which they may prefer to leave to the determination of congress hereafter,
as occasions arise.

NOT AN ARGUMENT

The cry of higher taxes in itself is not a valid argument against a public improvement or a bond issue any more than the cost of a plow is an argument against buying that implement for a farm. If that plow is needed to do better plowing and produce better crops, certainly it ought to be bought.

When civic improvements are concerned, when a new school building is needed to meet an increased attendance, when sanitary conditions or transportation facilities should be improved, when there is an opportunity for constructive development, the mere fear of higher taxes should prevent no taxpayer from giving the proposal, whatever it may be, full consideration and the benefit of his best judgment.

The cry of higher taxes was raised when Orange county's $1,270,000 good roads bonds were before the people for a vote. There was no substantial argument made against good roads, yet the fear of taxes caused a good many scores of people to vote against the bonds. However, the bonds were carried, and the county has been taking care of its good roads payments with the greatest of ease.

The fear of good roads taxes turned out to be a bugaboo, for the growth of the county's assessments has a good deal more than met the levy necessary each year to make the good roads bonds payment.

The people of the county are now
asked for $500,000 for harbor bonds, and the same old fear of taxes has been fired out as a barrage before the advancing voters. If Orange county's growth has more than met its good roads obligations on a bond issue of $1,270,000, certainly our faith in the county's future development is strong enough for us to vote $500,000 harbor bonds and feel that the growth of the county will more than meet the payments. Particularly when we bear in mind that Orange county's tax rate

this year will probably be the lowest in the state, do we insist that the mere fear of taxes in itself is no valid argument against the harbor bonds.

MILITARY VACATIONS

The war may be over, and peace established for all time, but there are still men in America who feel that military training and camp life are valuable to the civilian, though he may never be called upon for war service.

In answer to a popular demand for training of this sort, military camps are being organized in various localities, and to them men and boys of military nature will soon hie themselves.

One such camp, called "Camp Roosevelt," is to be located at Lake Harbor on Lake Michigan. Boys from 13 to 21 and men under 45 will be admitted. The camp is to be under the supervision of the Chicago Board of Education.

War or no war, the out-of-door life,
the habits of promptness, of military precision, the physical exercises, all are good for any boy or man. The more men who take vacations of this type, the more active, able-bodied,
clear-thinking citizens we shall have.

PEASANT WOMEN KNIT

The great Red Cross centers in America are closing, one by one,
though the activities of the society will be extended in peace no less actively than in war. The knitting needles are being packed away in the attic along with the winter underwear, and American women are turning to other employments for the fingers once so busy with needles and yarn.

But in the meantime the inhabitants of the devastated villages of Belgium and France are taking up their knitting needles, as, one by one,
they find a doorway to sit beside or a bit of roof to shelter them.

In order that every refugee woman who desires to knit may have supplies, the Red Cross Societies abroad will distribute over $2,000,000 worth of knitting materials, including 900, 000 pounds of yarn. It is a pleasant augury of better times to come, when the peasant women of Europe once more turn to their knitting.

Every time Germany lets out a yelp of protest over what it terms the severity of the peace terms, we are constrained to say: "Germany, they're nothing compared to what you would have made us sign up, if you had won the war."

The Huns are merely finding those Fourteen Points sharper than they expected.

New Significance

The sacredness of Memorial Day is intensified this year. The occasion takes on added significance. Since the last Memorial Day, many thousand brave young Americans have given up their lives on foreign soil for the great cause of Liberty and Peace with Justice. Memorial Day is for them, as well as for the heroic dead of the Civil War and the war with Spain.
The occasion, therefore, comes nearer to the heart of greater numbers of Americans than ever before.

It is not amiss, in these few days
preceding Memorial Day, to invoke proper decorous observance of May 30.
When one stops to think what the day signifies; what it is observed for, one understands why it is out of order and contrary to the fitness of things to indulge in boisterous sports and to make it a gala day. Not that it should be devoid of all pleasure. But there is a happy-medium way to observe it—quietly, yet not lugubriously. Save the noisy frolicking for other holidays more suitable.

WILSON LABOR PLAN HEARTILY ENDORSED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—President Wilson's proposal that labor be given "participation in control" of industry was greeted by socialists here today as an attempt to prevent war between capital and labor.

Labor leaders in most instances unhesitatingly endorsed the idea.
President Wilson has learned while abroad that the revolution in Europe will make American workers desire to control their own industries," said James H. Dodson, socialist organizer. "The President's recommendations are really an attempt to prevent the antagonism of capital and labor from coming to the surface."

The Germans were permitted to receive the terms of their punishment,
the dictates of a Peace Conference which is determined to make a lasting peace, on the anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania. "That these dead shall not have died in vain."

WOMEN ARE CARELESS

This has been proved over and over again during the war. They over-estimate their physical strength and overtax it. Their ambition is commendable, but does not compensate for the hours and days of misery which they suffer from symptoms caused by female ill brought on by overwork.
Women who are weak, nervous, dependent, with headaches, backache and dragging-down pains should remember there is one tried and true remedy, that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for such ailments.—Advertisement.

A Sorry Day for Imperial Birds

How the World Looks to Pessimist

From the Stockton Record

When the pessimist arises in the morning he feels sure in advance that he is going to nick his face in shaving or stick some tooth paste in his eye or something like that.

He feels convinced that at breakfast his coffee will be cold and the eggs not cooked to suit him.

Because he feels this way he does just exactly what he had expected to do, he cuts out a nice meaty hunk from his chin, he declares the coffee is cold—though it is warm enough for all the others in the house—and he calls down the cook for the condition of the eggs, although they have been cooked just as usual.

With this bad start the pessimist feels, as customary, that it is going to be an unlucky day for him.

He declares gloomily to himself that before the day is over he will get a call down from the boss, will lose a couple of customers and fall down stairs
and break his neck, or something.

Consequently he is in just the right mood to get the boss in a condition where a call down is inevitable.

He loses a couple of customers because he has told himself it is inevitable that he will lose them.

And he does fall down and nearly breaks his neck,
but—just at the critical moment—a smiling optimist steps up and saves him.

Which leads us to a consideration of the way the world looks to the optimist.

The optimist arises in the morning with a tune on his lips and a glad smile upon his countenance.

He knows he is going to enjoy his breakfast and because he feels that he is going to like it—it seems one of the best breakfasts he ever ate.

He knows he is going to be raised by the boss and make new sales records during the day and all that and—because he has this attitude toward his business—he gets what he expects.

And he feels that before the day is over he will help some poor sufferer who, as stated above, turns out to be the pessimist.

Pessimism and optimism are 90 per cent states of mind. How does the world look to you? Which are you?

MY SHIP

The swing of the sea I would bring back with me. In the ring of my verse, where the wild waves rehearse, I would music embalm of the wind-tossed palm. Bright night-water pour by a flame-colored shore.

My songs and my ships—o'er the foam each one slips. Full sail on the way to the Port of Good Day. They must sail on and on, with their cargoes of dawn, To the Kingdom of Rest, in the purple-eyed West. —Will Thompson in Everybody's Magazine.

Sunday School Picnic

The First Presbyterian church and Sunday school will hold their annual picnic next Saturday at Orange County Park. G. B. Darnell and C. B. Miller are in charge of transportation. Endorse Community Property Bill

Unusual interest attached to the meeting of the Woman's Club Tuesday, held at the home of Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, the president. Mrs. A. J. Padgham, state press chairman of music, gave a fine address, telling of the wonderful things that have been accomplished through the power of music. "Sing, smile and serve," was her slogan. Some one has said, "Let me make the songs of a nation and I care not who makes its laws."

Mmes. Stanley, Pyle and McKillop, who attended the state convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs at Coronado, gave splendid reports of the meetings. The foremost club women of the state were present and definite opinions expressed which will be carried out with the usual vigor and determination, which has become habitual with these women. The State Federation endorsed the community property bill and sent a unanimous resolution to the governor for his endorsement. The Woman's Club at yesterday's meeting endorsed the bill and instructed the corresponding secretary to forward it to the governor.

Mrs. Nina Crose was elected chairman of music for the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Finney read from the American magazine the story of Houston, B. Tee-Hee, the Cherokee Indian whose name is affixed to the Liberty bonds.

Mrs. Mills read an editorial from the Woman's magazine under the caption of "The Scandal of Our Education." Some astounding facts were narrated in regard to illiteracy in the United States.

Mrs. Tiffany was the recipient of some rare and beautiful floral offerings from members, aside from her own splendid roses used decoratively.

Timely current events were introduced at roll call. The neatly printed new Year Book was distributed to the members.

Mrs. Miner and Mrs. Whetmore were the welcome visitors.

Robertson, President; Mrs. Edmund Snow, First Vice President; Mrs. D. P. Goodrich, Second Vice President; Miss Eunice Jones, Secretary; Mrs. Alex Brownridge, Treasurer.

Money was voted for the vacation play grounds. Two pleasing songs were sung by the children of the lower grades. Mrs. D. Eymann Huff explained the child welfare work being done by the P.T. A. Any child in need of medical attention whose parents are unable to have it done, may receive treatment free of charge if endorsed by the committee on Child Hygiene.

Miss Edna Lewis made an excellent talk on children's diet, giving practical suggestions as to the right combination of food, showing how, not only the physical but the mental and moral development of the child depended largely on the diet.

The young people slipped away without telling any but their parents of their intentions.

Pleasant Party in Country

About forty-five women of the Altar Society and congregation of St. Joseph's Catholic Church were most charmingly entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Borchard at her country home at Greenville. The cheerful rooms were made most attractive with a profusion of lovely roses.

Nine tables were provided for those who liked a game of cards, and whist, euchre and "500" were played, each table being provided with a pretty prize.

After the card games, Mrs. Borchard served delicious jello with nuts and whipped cream and various kinds of home-made cakes. Mrs. Rudolph and Mrs. Murphy obtained the two cakes sold.

Mrs. John Maag and Mrs. Fred Dierker will be hostesses at the next meeting, June 3, at the home of the former in Orange.

Delightful Kensington

Mrs. Sherman J. Evans and Mrs. W. H. McCleery were the charming hostesses yesterday afternoon at a delightful Kensington held at the home of Mrs. Evans on West Walnut street. Thirty-seven ladies responding to the invitations sent out.

The home was made beautiful and fragrant with lovely Madam Adele Chateaucy roses in gold baskets, the color motif for the appointments being carried out in pink, which was also found in the delectable refreshments, before the guests departed, being loathe to leave the pleasant scene. Mrs. F. H. Cloyes assisted in serving.

Mrs. Evans will entertain again on Friday evening, the diversion being cards.

Sedgwick Social Club will meet in G. A. R. hall Friday. There will be a quilting bee in the forenoon, lunch at noon and an entertainment and social in the afternoon. The ladies will gather at 10 a. m.

Mr. Brown's experience with two-vision glasses and his fortunate investment in Kryptoks, induced Mrs. Brown to consult her eyeglass specialist. He recommended Kryptoks. Kryptoks are the only bifocals without line, seam or hump.

RICKARD WANTS DECISION BY 2 JUDGES

Question of Referee For Big Mill Unsettled and Causing Worry

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 21.—Tex Rickard, reports have it today, wants to do something new when he stages the bout between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey at Toledo, July 4. He is considering the plan of placing a couple of judges outside of the ring to give a decision as is done in amateur bouts. In case the judges disagree, the report goes, Tex intends the referee to give a decision.

It seems the good old American way of deciding winners of bouts is about to be manhandled. However, there is a ray of hope in the refusal of Lord Lonsdale, English sportsman, to accept the offer of Rickard to act as one of the judges. Major A. J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia, it was reported, has practically agreed to be one of the outside referees.

The matter of a referee is worrying the promoter. There is difficulty in finding a man who not only will be suitable to everyone but also competent to handle a bout of this importance without becoming rattled. Matt Hinkel, of course, is acceptable to the battlers and is competent. There is strong opposition to him in Toledo and this may result in both boxers and promoter deciding not to ask him to serve.

It is up to the boxers to agree on a third man, but Rickard has left a loophole for himself in the articles of agreement by withholding the privilege of naming a referee.

NEED MACHINES FOR GAME AT FULLERTON

Santa Ana will play Fullerton for the championship of the Orange Baseball League. The first game will be played at Santa Ana on the following Thursday. It is desired that all Santa Ana people who have machines and will help transport the local high school routers to Fullerton. Friday, notify the high school coach—Stewart Smith.

SANTA ANA HIGH IS DEFEATED AT TENNIS

Santa Ana High School was severely trounced, 6-2, in its first tennis tournament of the season, which was played with Fullerton yesterday. Fitz Gray won the second boys' singles and Frank and Harold Kellogg won the boys' doubles. The rest of the matches were all close, but the Fullerton teams played with greater speed and precision and walked away with things.

Santa Ana's second tournament will be played tomorrow afternoon with Orange at Orange. It is probable that the same teams will represent the school.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: Babe Ruth. Back in form, the demon slugger pounded the ball out of the Browns' park with the bases full and the St. Louisans succumbed, 6 to 4.

Four double-plays kept Red Faber in the game against the Athletics, who lost to the White Sox, 2 to 1.

Six runs galloped across the pan in the ninth for the Phillies and the Cardinals were shocked into defeat, 8 to 7.

Hod Eller came very near winning another ball game yesterday. The Giants only got two runs more than the Reds.

Earl Hamilton was winner over the Braves in a tight battle with Dick Rudolph, 3 to 2.

The Dodgers made it a pleasant visit for the Cubs by losing again, 3 to 2 this time.

LEWIS TO RESIDE IN SAN FRANCISCO

CHICAGO, May 21.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, wrestler, announced today he will leave for San Francisco to make his home there after he has finished his return engagements. 'Round Coast League Bases

Home runs: Borten, Vernon; Kramer, Oakland; Johnson, Salt Lake. Casey Smith all but blanked the Beavers' run column, giving them four hits. The Seals won, 3 to 1.

Two runs in the ninth inning won for the Tigers over the Senators, 4 to 2.

The Oaks knocked Markle from the box in the seventh inning and took two runs from Gould in the succeeding stanzas, winning over the Bees, 10 to 4.

Bowman of the Rainiers made his first appearance in Los Angeles by being knocked off the mound. The Angels won, 7 to 3.

CARD AT S. F. SMOKER.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Jeff Clarke against Soldier Elder and Bunting Savage against Joe Carroll will be the double main event at tonight's Association club smoker. Freddie Hartwell will meet Walter Pearsall and Willie Carlo will oppose Pete Dailey.

NO CONTEST, DECLARED.

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—Fans agreed today that a Vernon referee had made a good decision. The referee called last night's main event which was scheduled as a four round match between Herb Brodie and Eddie Pinkham, a fine foot race and stopped the fight in the third round because of lack of bloodshed. Pinkham was the best runner.

DEFEATS HEAVIER MAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—Johnny Griffiths, Akron welterweight, spotted Lon Rowlands several pounds last night and then gave the Milwaukee battler a neat lacing in eight rounds.

Growers of Lima Beans

Read How Co-operation Increases Land Values

BESIDES the direct selling benefits enjoyed by members of co-operative organizations, there are many indirect benefits. One of the greatest of these benefits is increased land values.

The value of farm lands, as we all know, is fixed by the money returns on the products grown on that land. A co-operative association can sell lima beans to better advantage than any individual grower.

Co-operation Gets Highest Prices

Through its many sources of information, the co-operative organization can select the best selling markets. It can advertise to the consumer in a way that will make the

Bankers Endorse Association

We are glad of this opportunity to express faith in the principle of co-operative marketing and our belief that growers who join the California Lima Bean Growers Association will be exercising good judgment.

people eat more lima beans. The co-operative association, by creating a great demand for lima beans, stabilizes prices. This assures to the grower a better return and a more steady return on his investment and labor. And the steady, profitable return on crops brings up the value of the land on which the crops are grown.

Facts About Raisin Growers

The records on land values around Fresno show how co-operation among the raisin growers has increased land values. The following is quoted from the Sun-Maid Herald, the official publication of the California Associated Raisin Company:

"Before the growers were organized, improved vineyards could be bought from $150 to $300 an acre. They are now held at from $400 to $750 an acre. Mortgages are being rapidly paid off. Vineyardists are building good homes, buying automobiles and educating their children properly. And, not to be overlooked, is the broader community spirit that has been developed."

Consider Your Personal Benefits

Ask any member what he thinks of our organization—the California Lima Bean Growers Association. Members will tell you that the Association lifts a big load from their shoulders. They will explain to you how the Association takes the responsibility for marketing their beans and relieves their worries.

Membership in the Association gives the grower more time to raise beans—more beans and better beans. It gives you more time for leisure. It gives you more time for study—more time with your family. It gives you time to do the things that every man wants to do but cannot do because of lack of time.

Let your Association market your beans while you give your time to raising the crops.

SCHOOLMASTERS ENEMY NATION MADE WAR

Prof. Moore, of Normal, Tells of Conditions Controlling Overseas Crime

"The war was schoolmaster made," declared Ernest Carroll Moore, of the Normal, Los Angeles, Monday night in an address before the Present Day Club at the home of Judge W. H. Thomas, this city.

The meeting was a most enjoyable one and included in the program was the singing of old-time songs by those present, with Mrs. A. J. Padgham in charge of the music feature.

"Education as a Cause of the War," was the subject of Professor Moore's address.

"What is the chief lesson of the war?" he asked. "It has tested many a theory and rejected many a conclusion. Politics, ethics, religion, philosophy, science, economics, literature and even art emerged from its crucible different, very different, from what they were before the war laid its bloody hands upon them. The world is in a highly progressive condition with such a wealth of newly proved insight to put to work."

"Education is among the human interests which have been put to the trial. The war has indeed been the proving stage of two colossal experiments in education. The first began fifty years ago, in Germany, at the time her autocratic government commenced to form its plans for the subjugation of the world."

"The war was schoolmaster made. Germany had twenty-one universities and eleven technical schools of superior grade. There were some 3400 professors in the universities and about 750 in the technical schools. All were state officers. Formerly they made much of their freedom, but in recent years they have become mere gramophones for the officials."

"The German patriotism which produced the war was not naive and natural, like that of older days; it was forced, intentional, manufactured, the result of the pounding in process."

"It is difficult to understand how a crime so colossal as the war could have been conceived. Its origin will have to be investigated more carefully than it has yet been before we can be quite sure of its beginning and the steps of its development."

Teachers Act War Promoters

"It is quite clear that the 4200 professors in the universities and technical schools were active agents in promoting it. It may be discovered that some of their number originated it and supplied it to the government. German higher education had a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde character. The Germany which made the war was a land of castes. Her school system was not intended to open opportunity to every one. They did not set up a ladder reaching from the kindergarten to the university. They made the Volksschule a thing apart to keep the toiling millions of the lower classes in their place and teach them such unquestioning obedience as would make them pliant and devoted tools of the officials. This was a free school, the others were not."

"The child of more fortunate parents, who was to be trained for a career, did not go to the Volksschule. He entered the gymnasium, or the real schule or the real gymnasium, at the age of nine, and at once began the study of foreign languages, for a long training in foreign languages was necessary before he was qualified to enter a German university."

"This is just the high lights on the German educational experiment. It supplied the cement which unified a people and kept it solidly devoted to its unholy purpose through four years of unparalleled sacrifice and self-denial, and in the end it yielded only to the inevitable disintegration of failure."

The American Experiment
"Let us turn to the war came we were not prepared. It took us two years and eight months to realize that our liberties were in danger. The Germans made no secrets of their intentions, they disclosed their methods from the first outbreak of hostilities, they made war upon our citizens both at home and abroad and in their complacency assured us that we were too cowardly to defend our rights. We failed to realize what they were doing. That is the supreme proof of the failure of our educational system, for a nation that cannot discern impending destruction in less than two years is not able to preserve itself. It must become more keenly sensitive to the conditions amid which it lives."

"And when we finally discovered that our very existence as a people was in jeopardy and had been all along, we made certain other discoveries that were not at all reassuring. We discovered that a good many of us could not read or write, and in camp thousands of drafted men were called who could not even understand

Soldier at Cambrai Sees His Own Grave, Name Carved on Slab

BANGOR, Me., May 21.—Wilford G. Oakes of Bangor, who returned home after a remarkable record of service in a Canadian artillery regiment, had the experience, near Cambrai, of viewing his own grave, with his name inscribed on a rude slab over the last resting place. He took a snapshot of the grave as a souvenir.

Oakes was severely wounded several times. In one battle when he was wounded he lost his identification card. His jaws were shot away, making it impossible for him to communicate his identity, and as he was missing from his company his death was finally reported. Some other soldier was buried under his name.

A surgical operation gave him new jaw bones, and today one has to examine his face carefully to find the scars.

When young Oakes enlisted in 1914 he was 17, but his discharge papers gave his age as 25 years. This is because he was so anxious to enlist that he raised his age. Oakes has been cited for bravery and has received a medal of honor.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Woman Who Paid"
This interesting virile drama, founded on actual happenings during the early days of California, will be the opening play of the H. B. Suttie's players at Victory Park next Monday night. The play was written by George Hasner for Nancy Boyer and used by her as a starring vehicle for several years. Miss Boyer's part in the Suttie's players cast will be filled by Miss Flossie Shumway, a remarkably clever young woman.

Few dramas of today contain as many strong comedy and startling situations.

Mr. Suttie has taken great care in the selection of his company and Miss Shumway will be surrounded with capable support.

During the stay of Suttie's players a new play will be staged each night with a change of vocal or dancing numbers after each act of the drama. "The Woman Who Paid" will be found an entertainment worthy of patronage and will be followed on Tuesday night by the new dramatic success, "Making Good."

IMPROVEMENTS START ON NEW FARM TRACT

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, May 21.—Improvements on the "Coast Boulevard Farms," the new tract which is being opened up by Messrs. Harper and Davidson of Long Beach, have begun. The streets are being opened up and grading is now going on.

This tract consisting of three hundred and ten acres was lately purchased of J. J. Graham and is being subdivided into five-acre tracts. A water plant will be established and pipe lines laid. It is also the intention of the company to build on one of the five-acre lots and install all small farm improvements, making this a sample model farm.

The entire tract will be put into perfect condition before any sales will be made.

Annual meeting of stockholders of Santa Ana Armory hall will be held at the Armory June 3, 1919, at 2 p. m.

our language sufficiently to interpret orders by commanding officers. Twenty-nine per cent of the men called were shown to be physically unfit to defend their homeland. That seems to be the most pathetic disclosure of the war, for when armies are gathered and battles are fought we expect that wounds will be given and cripples made and that starvation and sickness will follow, but we do not expect to find that these conditions have been allowed to obtain unchecked and unremedied in peace times.

"The school cannot control such conditions, but it is true that the school system which allows such a proportion of its students to grow up physically unfit is to that extent a failure."

"Our real experiment in education began when we commenced training our officers and men for various lines of army activity. Instead of three years in which to train and prepare an army, we had six months and did the job. Miracles were performed here as well as in Germany, but of an entirely different character. Whoever will collate and write the detailed history of this colossal educational experiment and will reinforce its lessons with an account of how England and France and Italy performed a similar miracle of quick training for war in all its branches, will perform a service of no slight dimension to the race."

"Public education, with us, as with Germany, is the one means which can make the nation one in attitude, desire, aspiration and action, but public education which is our sole national reliance is, legally, an affair not of the nation, but of the forty-eight states. It is, indeed, a coat of many colors."

"The war has brought about a transvaluation of former values. We see now that education is, indeed, as Plato said it was so long ago—the one thing needful for the preservation of states and the ordering of lives."

HIGH SCHOOL FRIENDS GIVE SURPRISE PARTY

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, May 21.—A surprise party was given Russell Alford last Friday evening by a number of his high school friends in honor of his birthday anniversary.

The party was held at his home and his mother had prepared a tempting array of refreshments. Lively games were played.

The party was composed of Russell Alford, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Alford, Miss Dorothy McKenzie and Miss Jennie Ufford of Huntington Beach, Mrs. J. R. Morgan, Miss Ethel Morgan, Miss Eunice Stockton, Miss Ethel Graham, Miss Frances Blaylock, Loren Madux, Leonard Cady, Frank Draper and Loyal Hughes.

HE WASN'T DRINKING, SWALLOWED HIS CHEW

(From the Youngstown Telegram.)
The man who staggered into a doorway and then sank to a sitting position on the step caused some people to suspect he had been dining too well.

The ashen pallor of his face soon attracted the attention of a sympathetic bystander, however, and the latter inquired:

"What seems to be the trouble?"

The man smiled feebly, craned his neck, tried to clear his throat, and then placed one hand to his burning brow.

"You haven't been drinking too much?"

"No," the man weakly replied. "It's nothing serious. It'll be all right in a minute. I just swallowed my chew."

Kiddies Kidnaped? No They Were Only Busy Helping Make 'Movies'

The operations of a band of "kidnapers" was cut short yesterday afternoon by the Santa Ana police with the aid of Miss Cartmell, school nurse.

A moving picture company was taking some pictures at Balboa that required a number of Mexican children. Assistants were rushed to Santa Ana to get all the kiddies they could. They got plenty. Wherever they could find any little Mexican boy or girl, they hired the child to work. The result was that many were absent from their usual places in the classroom.

Miss Cartmell and two of Santa Ana's yellow-clad protectors of the public, traced the "lost" children to Balboa, and found them working for the director of the film company.

Apologies were made and Mr. Cranston was called up. Inasmuch as the little actors were being well paid for their work, no real harm was done and affairs were straightened out without the aid of the strong arm of the law.

RUBBER SPONGE TIRE LATEST FROM JAPAN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—No more blowouts.

T. W. Costello is in San Francisco direct from Japan with the latest in tires—the rubber sponge tire.

Costello is representing the tire as puncture-proof. It consists of one piece of rubber, the center of which is a mesh of air sacs, similar to a sponge.

According to Costello, the tire has proved successful in Japan, and markets have been secured in Europe. He will introduce the new tire here.

WHEN BUYING ASPIRIN ALWAYS SAY "BAYER"

Ask for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a Bayer package—marked with "Bayer Cross."

Don't buy Aspirin tablets in a pill box. Insist on getting the Bayer package with the safety "Bayer Cross" on both package and on tablets. No other way!

You must say "Bayer." Never ask for merely Aspirin tablets. The name "Bayer" means you are getting the genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," proven safe by millions of people.

Beware of counterfeits! Only recently a Brooklyn manufacturer was sent to the penitentiary for flooding the country with talcum powder tablets, which he claimed to be Aspirin.

In the Bayer package are proper directions and the dose for Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Colds, Gripe, Influenza Colds, Neuritis and pain generally.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," American made and owned, are sold in vest pocket boxes of 12 tablets, which cost only a few cents, also in bottles of 24 and bottles of 100—also capsules. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

JUNIOR COLLEGE MAY CONTINUE NEXT TERM

Berkeley Branch at Los Angeles May Not Be Available to Outsiders

There is possibility that the Junior College in this city will not be discontinued. The Board of Education may reconsider its action to close the college at the close of the term and may decide to maintain it, despite the increased cost.

"It is doubtful if students living outside of Los Angeles will be able to attend the new branch of Berkeley which is being established at the Los Angeles normal," said Prof. Hammond of the high school today.

"The school is being established to take care of the junior college students of Los Angeles and for a year or so outsiders probably will not be allowed to enter. The whole of the $40,000 appropriated by the state will go toward paying salaries. For that reason we may continue the junior college."

Thorp Representatives Here
Prof. Sawyer and McCloud of Thorp College of Technology were here this forenoon and addressed the senior class of the high school. The young men told the students of the requirements for entrance into the college and something of the school standards. Something of the school life and its part in athletics were also explained.

May Enter Military Competition
It is very probable that the high school will enter a squad in the competitive drill to be given this coming Saturday at Pomona College. The high school students here have not yet received their requisition of rifles from the government, and have had no training in the manual of arms. A letter received by Major Carrier this morning states that rifles can be borrowed from the college cadet corps or dummy guns used, but no training has so far been given here in the high school along this line.

The high school declamation contest will also be held at Pomona Saturday. Frank Kellogg will represent the Santa Ana High School in this contest and his subject for declamation will be "The National Flag." All the high schools of Southern California will send representatives for this contest.

The Program
The program for the day is as follows:
9:30 to 11:30 a. m.—Elimination contest for squads and individuals competing for military honors. Alumni field.
10:30 a. m.—Elimination contest in declamation. Holmes hall and Bridges

Bomb Appearing Box Causes Shivers to Possess Heathman

City Recorder Heathman this morning had visions of himself being blown into atoms when he received through the mails a package that looked like a wicked and death dealing bomb. He recalled the names of many of the people who have appeared before him for violations of the traffic ordinance and anticipated that someone was trying to get even with him.

He opened the package, and a tin box was revealed. A string in imitation of a fuse entered the interior of the box.

"Ah, ha! a bomb," commented the doughty colonel.

"And a fuse attached to a time clock," he mused further.

His curiosity was aroused, but not sufficiently to induce him to open the package. He passed it up.

Motorcop Stewart was present. Stewart is a brave spirit, and takes chances with his life every day. He was willing to take a chance on the death-dealing-looking tin box.

He opened it.

There were an even 500 pennies in the box.

They were from C. H. Rose of Los Angeles.

Rose was arrested here by Stewart on April 20 for operating his automobile with the spotlight out of focus.

He promised to send in his fine. He failed. A letter from Co. Heathman a few days ago reminded him of his delinquency.

The package of pennies was Rose's answer.

COURTHOUSE NEWS

HAY BALERS ARE CONFORMING TO SCALES LAW

25-Outfits In County Affected; Cleaner Hay, Accurate Weight, Aim

Orange county hay balers, just beginning the baling season, are starting out to conform to Assemblyman Eden's hay baling bill just signed by Governor Stephens, although it does not officially become effective until the latter part of the summer. Already one set of scales has been condemned by County Sealer George McPhee and several outfits have purchased new scales to be used in the field as the hay is baled. There are about twenty-five hay baling outfits in the county which are affected by the new law.

Assemblyman Eden's bill provides that hay must be sold by avoirdupois weight and that 2000 pounds shall be a ton. The correct net weight will be indicated by a tag on each bale.

The act further provides that "No baler or presser or hay shall put or conceal in any such bale of hay anything whatever for the purpose of increasing the weight of such bale with intent to defraud." In order to comply with this term and to prevent chunks of dirt from being baled with the hay, the feeder boards of hay presses will be of grate material rather than a solid board.

Violation of the law is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100.

WELL RIGGING SUIT IS ON TRIAL TODAY

A gas engine and well rigging is involved in the suit of Mary Reynolds against the Anaheim Union Water Company, which went to trial in Judge West's court this morning. Plaintiff alleged she was the owner of the rigging, valued at $2500, which was stored on her place near Placentia, and that on February 21, 1918, the defendant unlawfully broke into the building, took the material away, and has been holding it from her. She asked judgment of $2500 and damages of $500.

J. B. Petrie, Owing Land East of Anaheim, Alleges Unjust and Unlawful Conspiracy

Suit for $5,000 actual damages and $20,000 punitive damages has just been filed here by J. B. Petrie of Long Beach against W. C. Heffern, L. B. Pugh, and others, as the result of oil drilling operations by the defendants in the Golden State tract, east of Anaheim. Attorneys Hibbard and Kleindienst of Los Angeles represent the plaintiff.

Petrie alleges he owns land in the Golden State tract, and that the defendants, members of an oil company, hold oil leases on land entirely surrounding the Petrie property and are drilling for oil. He alleges that Defendant Heffern and his associates "unjustly and unlawfully conspired together to slander and incumber plaintiff's title" and that following out this conspiracy, they claimed to hold a lease upon the Petrie place and thus prevented ePetrie from giving an oil lease to one drilling concern which he says offered a cash payment of $5,000 and one-eighth royalty.

Further alleging that defendants have threatened to make similar statements to any other prospective lessee and thus spoil any deal which Petrie might attempt to arrange, and is in danger of suffering irreparable damage for his land being drained of oil by the operations of defendants on adjoining properties, Petrie asks award of $25,000 damages and an injunction to prevent the defendants from making any claim to his land.

THERE SHOULD BE A GOOD REFRIGERATOR IN EVERY HOME

Our Annual Food Waste is $65,000,000

L. S. Osborne, head of the Waste Disposal Conservation Section of the Food Administration, says: "Twenty-nine cities with a total population of 17,000,000 are discarding annually 1,200,000 tons of garbage which is producing 70,000,000 pounds of grease valued at $8,500,000 and 150,000 tons of fertilizer valued at $2,250,000."

One-sixth of the population, therefore, annually discards in garbage $10,760,000, making a total national waste of approximately $65,000,000.00.

One quarter of an ounce of butter wasted in each American home every day amounts to 114,000,000 pounds a year. One ounce of meat wasted means 456,000,000 pounds of meat in a year.

A great share of this loss is caused by lack of Refrigeration in the home.

IT IS THE DUTY OF EVERY FAMILY TO PREVENT FOOD WASTE.

A Refrigerator is an economical, humanitarian and patriotic investment.

In addition to this it is a great comfort to the housewife. It lessens the work of the housewife.

Baldwin Dry Air Refrigerators Save Food

It provides properly chilled drinks in hot weather and keeps the milk sweet and cool for the children.

It enables a hungry man to find a lunch when he wants it because he knows where to look for it.

It is a sanitary food storage plant—simple in construction and economical in operation.

They are equipped with heavy retinned wire shelves, grip socket casters, inside air tight waste trap, and removable waste pipe.

These refrigerators are made of the best quality kiln dried ash lumber. They are built on a strong frame, which is covered on one side with heavy non-conducting sheathing, and the other with two thicknesses of heavy insulating sheathing. This, with inside wooden wall, outside case and lining, give six good insulating surfaces and a big dead air space. Every joint and nail in the frame is covered. By this method of construction we secure perfect, air tight, dead air spaces between the walls. Dead air is conceded to be the best non-conductor of heat or cold, and as we use no charcoal or other filling, the walls do not bulge or swell. Packing is liable to absorb and retain moisture and odors, and settle or sift out in shipping and use, leaving an empty space around top of refrigerator.

SAYS RECORD OF WALNUT SALES IS BEST IN HISTORY

Association Head Tells of Excellent Results In Handling Crop

That the record of sales under adverse conditions made by the California Walnut Growers' Association in handling the 1918 walnut crop is the most remarkable record of the sale of any agricultural crop in the history of the United States, if not in the world, was declared by C. C. Teague, president of the association, at the last meeting of the board of directors of the association. The meeting was attended by Harry W. Lewis, president of the Santa Ana Walnut Association.

"For many years," said Teague in his statement to the directors, "I have been a strong advocate of co-operative growers' organizations for marketing agricultural products. I have been a strong advocate because of a firm conviction that it is only through the development of co-operative marketing organizations that the agricultural products of the soil can be properly distributed and the grower receive a fair remuneration for his product and at the same time the consumer receive the product at a reasonable price. The development of such organizations eliminate the speculative middleman who adds greatly to the ultimate cost to the consumer and absorbs a good deal of the profit which should go to the producer."

"The remarkable record of the California Walnut Growers' Association during the selling campaign of the season 1918 and 1919, is a great demonstration of what such an organization can accomplish when properly managed and conducted upon right principles."

"When the campaign opened, the growers estimated the output of the association at 9000 tons. All of the conditions looked favorable for a high price. War was still on. All food products were selling at extreme prices. It looked, therefore, as though the price of twenty-eight cents per pound, as established at the opening of the season, was justified. The offerings of the Association were quickly absorbed at the opening price, and when it became apparent that the crop was to overrun, and the association would have advanced prices to offer, the price was advanced to thirty cents. It later developed, however, that instead of a 9000-ton crop, as the growers estimated, the association crop actually totaled a little over 13,000 tons, an increase of nearly fifty per cent."

"Even under normal conditions the marketing of this surplus would have been a tremendous task, but to make conditions even more difficult, the armistice was signed and war conditions ended, and all food products operators, who also were caught with large stocks, began cutting the price and offered freely at twenty-five to twenty-six cents for No. 1 soft shells."

"The association decided that instead of cutting the price and adding to the already demoralized market condition, it would put on a national campaign of advertising, in publications of national circulation, the superior merits of Diamond Brand walnuts. As a result of this national campaign of advertising and superior

TEACH AT SUMMER SCHOOL.

The appointment of Dr. William Conger Morgan to the faculty of the University of California's Summer Session in Los Angeles is of peculiar interest since he was for twelve years a member of the department of Chemistry at Berkeley and is widely known throughout the state.

The summer session will be held this year at the Los Angeles State Normal School for a period of six weeks beginning June 30. Bulletins are now ready for distribution without charge at the office of the Summer Session, 417 Union League Building, Los Angeles.

salesmanship on the part of the Los Angeles office, and an able line of brokers in the East, this great surplus crop is almost cleaned up and it is now certain that it will be entirely cleaned up at the full price of thirty cents per pound before the new crop is harvested.

"In my judgment this is the most remarkable record of the sales of any agricultural crop in the history of the United States, if not in the world. Is it possible that, after such a record as this, growers who really know of this record will continue to market their products through independent operators at a cost of double what it would be if marketed through the California Walnut Growers' Association?"

SOIL AUGER IS TO CONCENTRATE AN IMPORTANT TOOL, SAYS ADVISOR

Wahlberg Points Out Use to Determine Penetration of Irrigation

HARPER, May 21.—The Harper Farm Center at its monthly meeting last Friday had an excellent attendance. Several committees reported, including the telephone by H. B. Woodrough, roads by Mr. Walker, new school by Mr. Dodge. The Farm Center members expressed their approval of a new $12,000 school building to be located on a new site close to the Harper church.

Farm Advisor Wahlberg addressed the meeting on the subject of "Optimum Moisture Supplied by Irrigation." He advised the use of soil auger before and after irrigation to determine the actual penetration of soil moisture. For the irrigation farmer this is one of the most important tools on the ranch. With the use of a soil auger and careful observations of the action of the water in the soil, the farmer can determine the best method of applying irrigation water on his particular soil.

Director Cleghorn gave a report of the May directors' meeting. He announced the membership campaign scheduled for June 10th and urged all members to enlist their neighbors in the Farm Bureau, to make it a stronger and more efficient organization for the county and for the local center.

Prof. L. D. Batchelor will be in Harper district on June 19th and 20th to make soil moisture observations on irrigated ranches. He will address the Harper Center Friday evening, June 20th.

SEEKING METHOD TO CONTROL JUNE DROPP

PORTERVILLE, May 21.—State university horticultural experts are making a series of experiments on the Dr. D. A. Beattie groves, comprising 80 acres near Porterville, with the purpose to find what a combination black leaf and oil base will do for protection of the groves against June drop. The horticulturists have great faith in their experiment, and the whole population of orange growers in that region is watching developments. "June drops" have been the cause of losses of navel orange crops amounting to over $7,000,000 in Tulare county alone during the past dozen years.

"If the annual June drop can be prevented," says Assemblyman Phillips, "there will be a tremendous planting of oranges in the San Joaquin valley, where the drops have been more serious than any freezes."

SULPHUR IS USED TO KILL MILDEW ON ROSE BUSH, WATER ON APHIS

Growers of roses are called upon again to face the two principal pests that attack rose plants in California. Sulphur is the remedy for mildew, but for best results a good quality of sulphur such as grape growers use and thorough application are necessary. A half-hearted battle with mildew will mean a triumph for the mildew. Be sure that every part of the rose bush is covered as well as the soil beneath.

Most growers of roses will fail to do much good in treating for mildew simply because they will not stay on the job. The best thing to be done with a rose bush that is subject to mildew year after year is to dig it up and burn it, and replace it with a variety that is resistant to mildew. Any well informed nurseryman should know what varieties are mildew resistant.

To discourage the aphids wash the foliage thoroughly with a stream from the hose. A good pressure, all that the foliage will stand without injury, will wash them off and few will return for a second drenching.

This treatment for aphids should be made in the morning so that the bushes will be well dried off before evening on account of the mildew which grows best under damp conditions.

Buena Park People Much Interested In the Question of Drainage

BUENA PARK, May 21.—Aiming to put their center on a practical working basis, the Buena Park Farm Center Monday night at a largely attended meeting outlined a program of projects for the coming year. Although a large number of local problems were suggested at the meeting, it was decided to concentrate the efforts of the center on four pertinent subjects. The four selected were drainage, spraying, cover crops and fertilizers, and Boys' Clubs. There is a growing sentiment in favor of taking steps toward drainage west and south of Buena Park.

Committees will be appointed to take each of these projects in charge, and arrange for local denominations and programs. The purpose of this arrangement is to allow the center to take the initiative, to prepare to meet its own problems and assist in their solution by practical application of recommendations made in the center meetings by the farm advisor, or other agents of the College of Agriculture or government.

Dr. Schofield, director from Buena Park to the County Bureau, gave a detailed report of the directors' meeting. "When the membership drive for Farm Bureau members takes place June 10th," he said, "we want to have Buena Park in the lead."

Mr. Bastady, president of the center, appointed a committee to circulate the telephone petitions. It was the sense of the meeting that Buena Park should have a local telephone exchange, and the delegates appointed to represent Buena Park at the mass meeting in Anaheim were instructed to demand it when a mutual company is organized.

J. N. Anderson, chairman of the former drainage committee, will be invited to address the next farm center meeting.

TESTING CHEMICALS TO CONTROL WEEDS

To save crops on hundreds of acres of land in California on which cultivation has been stopped because of weeds, George P. Gray, Assistant Professor of Entomology at the University of California, has issued a preliminary report on his extensive investigation.

"The cultivation of crops has been actually abandoned on hundreds of acres of some of the most fertile land in the state," Professor Gray states, "and the production of thousands of acres more is rapidly decreasing through the increase and spread of Johnson grass and wild morning-glory. "None of the root-absorption experiments seemed to point the way for control of wild morning-glory or agricultural land at a reasonable expense and without serious injury to the soil. Incidental to the main object of the experiments, the control of the wild morning-glory on agricultural land, data have been obtained which show the superiority of arsenic as a soil sterilizer. All of the Centerville plots to which an ounce or more of arsenic trioxide had been applied per square yard were barren of all vegetation, except wild morning-glory, for fourteen months, notwithstanding the leaching by the rains of two winters."

"The leaf-absorption experiments have definitely established one fact of importance from a scientific as well as from a practical standpoint, namely, that a dilute solution of sodium arsenite applied only to the aerial parts of the wild morning-glory under certain conditions will destroy both the aerial parts of the plant and the underground parts to a depth of several feet."

MUCH WHEAT LOST IN KANSAS STRAWSTACKS

KANSAS CITY, Kans., May 21.—Kansas is said to lose between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 bushels of wheat each year because of the strawstacks. The straw is of comparatively little feed value.

Some farmers have a hundred times more straw than all their stock could eat. The straw is of no use as a fertilizer until well rotted, and it takes four to six years to rot. Not less than 100,000 acres of land, it is estimated, are covered with strawstacks and made useless for farm purposes every year.

Burning these strawstacks does great damage to the ground on which it stands, as the terrific heat takes all the life out of the ground for 100 feet or more around the stack.

Farmer Should Study His Problems in Determining Upon Purchase of Tractor

The Iron Horse Saves Time When Time Is Most Valuable.

Federal Experts Say Greatest Advantage Is In Saving of Time

A tractor may be either a profitable or an unprofitable investment. Each farm has its own peculiarities, and a farmer must weigh the advantages and disadvantages carefully before buying a tractor. He should study the experiences of those who have used tractors in farm work, paying particular attention to those whose farms conform most nearly to his own in size and system of cropping. This is advice from specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. On an average, one farm in thirty in the United States now uses a tractor. It has been estimated by manufacturers that over 300,000 tractors will be made this year. It behooves every farmer contemplating buying one to study his farm problems from every angle. If he thinks that he can use a tractor to advantage, he will not have far to go to see how tractors are being used, for tractors are found all over Orange county.

One thing is certain, and that is that the tractor, like the automobile, has come to stay. Here in Orange county, the use of tractors in all kinds of orchard and farm work where teams hitherto have been used has grown steadily.

The advantages of a tractor lies not so much in the reduction in the cost of doing a piece of work as in being able to do it in less time. Thus the number of acres farmed can be increased and the work done quickly. Often the saving of time is the important factor in making a profit on the crop grown.

A tractor can be kept on the job in hot weather when horses are at a disadvantage. It can do heavy work and do it rapidly, thus covering the desired acreage in the proper season. It saves man labor, thus enabling the farm to be worked with less hired help. It sometimes decreases the number of horses needed, thus saving both investment in horses and the expense of their feed.

The tractor owner can increase his income somewhat by doing custom work of his neighbors; but this is often a doubtful practice. Outside work must be done at a time when it will not interfere with the necessary work on his own place or he will lose more by neglect than he makes by the custom work.

Some Disadvantages
The packing of damp soil and the difficulty of efficient operation are the chief disadvantages mentioned by tractor users. Where early spring work is necessary, the packing of the soil, especially a heavy soil, is a serious objection.

The fact that a tractor demands a certain amount of knowledge on the part of the operator can scarcely be considered a disadvantage. The training can be easily obtained at small expenses. But too many men attempt to run tractors without learning anything about them except the starting, stopping, and shifting gears. The important thing is the ability to detect trouble the minute it begins to develop, and know how to remedy it promptly instead of allowing it to run along until an expensive delay results.

It pays to spend a few days gaining experience under a competent instructor. It is unwise to attempt to run a tractor without such preparation. With the increasing use of tractors, as well as automobiles and stationary engines, farmers are rapidly becoming familiar with the care and operation of gas engines. At the same time, tractors are being improved and simplified so that difficulties in operation are growing less each year.

The comparatively large investment, rapid depreciation, and fuel and repair bills have also been mentioned by farmers as points against owning a tractor. They point out, too, that a tractor is not adaptable to all farm work where horses are ordinarily used. However, the tractor can do much work that horses cannot do—work where belt power is needed.

EVERY RANCHER TO BE VISITED IN CAMPAIGN FOR NAMES

Purpose Is to Spread Usefulness of Agricultural Bodies

"Every farmer a Farm Bureau member!" That is the slogan for the big membership drive of the Orange County Farm Bureau on June 10th.

The Directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau at their monthly meeting last Friday launched plans to make this farmers' organization the largest and strongest in the state.

Committees in the fourteen farm centers of the county will visit every ranch in their districts to enlist the farmer in the Farm Bureau.

Some farmers are still unaware of the purpose and existence of the Farm Bureau, strange as that may seem.

It is for the purpose of acquainting the man of the soil with the advantages of co-operating with the College of Agriculture, Experiment Station and other government agricultural institutions that this drive is to be made. The payment of a dollar entitles one to membership in the Bureau, notices of the monthly meetings in the member's district and the weekly Farm Bureau section.

"Every Center committee expects to outdo the other," says Farm Advisor Wahlberg. "No committee will take 'No' for an answer, for it is not in the vocabulary. They will have a receipt all ready for you. All you have to do is furnish the dollar. June 10th is the day."

The Orange County Farm Bureau has been in operation for only a year, but it has advanced in usefulness with remarkable speed and it can be of real use to every farmer in the county. Its work is of a practical nature and it aims to deal directly with local farming problems.

COW-TESTING WORTH MORE THAN IT COSTS

"I would not take four times what my testing work has cost me for what it has been worth to me," is the way a Tennessee dairyman expresses his appreciation of the benefits he gained as a member of a cow-testing association which was organized by the United States Department of Agriculture in his community.

"The cow which has proved to be the best one in my herd was the one that I considered poorest before the tests were made. I priced one of my cows at $125 before she was tested, but now I price her at $350." The test showed that the 19-year-old cow which this dairyman used for the foundation of his herd made 65 pounds of butter fat in November. The average production for the herd during this month was over 40 pounds of butter fat.

Horticultural Week Will Bring Fruit Growers and Farmers to Big Meetings

Six Big Conventions and Conferences, Rich In Information and Instruction, Are to Be Held at Riverside, May 26 to 31—Gatherings Arranged By State Commissioner—Big Crowds Are Expected.

Hundreds of men and women interested in horticulture and agriculture are to go to Riverside next week to attend one or more of the six big conventions and conferences that are to be held there. These conventions start Monday and will continue throughout the week.

er, adequate caprification of the main crop. It is generally considered that five per cent of the caprification in a Smyrna planting is a good proportion. The following varieties are proving satisfactory and have been fairly well tested out in the San Joaquin Valley districts: Roeding No. 3 for early season; Roeding No. 2 and Stanford for mid-season, and Milco for late season. Other good promising varieties are Markarian No. 2 for early and Magnis-salis for mid-season.

The Adriatic, Mission and Kadota varieties can be caprified. The Mission fig is not noticeably changed in character by caprification. The Adriatic and Kadota are, however, improved by the process, and I believe that the time is soon coming when growers will find it profitable to caprify Adriatic trees.

DOESN'T WANT REWARD FOR RETURNING $175

CONNERSVILLE, Ind., May 21.—Mrs. John Springer, who lives three miles south of Noblesville, had abandoned hope of finding a purse containing almost $175, which she lost somewhere between Cincinnati and her home, when a neighbor came to her with a copy of the Indianapolis News, in which there appeared a story to the effect that J. A. Davidson, living west of Connorsville, had found a purse with about that sum in it, and was eagerly seeking the owner.

Mrs. Springer hired an automobile and drove to this city.

Davidson, a huckster and a poor man, immediately surrendered the purse when told the denomination of the bills. He accepted, reluctantly, a reward of $20, insisting that he had his reward in placing the purse in the hands of its owner. Davidson lost two pounds of coffee on the sidewalk in Connorsville when he went to advertise his find, and although he immediately retraced his steps, the package was gone. He still is annoyed at the recollection of this incident.

NOW GOOD TIME TO SHAPE UP YOUNG TREES

May is the month when deciduous trees up to two years of age may be pruned to the great advantage of the grower and the tree. As a rule it is not safe to prune much later than the last of May, since pruning after the active growing season ceases is apt to do much more harm than good.

As a rule you will find that several branches have started to grow from the single stem of the newly set tree. Select three good branches, well located, so as to give balance to the tree, and spaced about six inches apart. These branches are to form the primary frame work of the tree and should be left long. All other branches should be headed back to short stubs containing two or three leaves. These are left to shade the tender trunks and help prevent sunburn.

By pinching back all extra branches and leaving the tree permanent frame-work branches long, the food supply is diverted to these. Energy is conserved, growth takes place where it should, and such a tree is by the end of the first growing season much ahead of a tree allowed to go unpruned and whose several branches compete with each other all season.

The first winter the stubs are cut off close to the main stem, and the three main frame-work branches are headed back, leaving them from 15 to 24 inches long.

Trees one year old in the orchard or those just beginning the second year's growth can generally be greatly advanced by summer pruning. The three main frame-work branches will have each produced from two to five or more secondary branches. Select the two best branches from each one of the three frame-work branches and pinch back severely or cut off entirely all others.

If at this time the two branches left long have made from 18 to 30 inches of growth or more, they should be pinched back so that they are not over 18 to 30 inches in length. These branches are left for main frame-work branches and in a favorable year branch again, sending out from two to many branches.

The following winter the tree should be thinned, leaving not more than two branches from each one of the six. The tree then at two years old has twelve scaffold branches, which are sufficient for the main frame work of the tree. The tree under this system of pruning has its form, and no more heading back will be necessary to get form or more branches.

The advantages of proper summer pruning are that the energies of the tree are so conserved that most of the growth made is permanent frame work. All cuts are made when the branches are small, consequently the wounds heal immediately and there should be no weak places in the tree. Summer pruning together with the light dormant pruning will result in the tree bearing fruit at least a year earlier.

The farmer can save money by obtaining a government farm loan for a term of 35 years at 5 1/2% rate of interest.—Adv.

HOUSEHOLD TOOLS and Mops WILL COME TO AMERICA

French Leader, Simple In Tastes Talks of U. S. War Efforts

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 20.—Marshal Petain expects to pay a visit to America as soon as circumstances permit.

There are few leaders of men more likable than Petain. His tastes are simplicity itself. He lives and dresses simply. When I saw him at his headquarters he was wearing a horizon blue uniform, without an inch of braid or any description. Only his seven stars, on each sleeve, to show his rank, gave his dress even the slightest glint. But even these stars were small and of dulled silver. He wore no service stripes though entitled to the maximum, which is six. On his breast only bit of ribbon was pinned—without the decoration itself—and this was the "Medaille Militaire." Ordinarily officers are not entitled to this; only privates and non-commissioned officers are regularly eligible. But officers who have performed extraordinary services for their country are awarded the medal and, though owning about all the decorations there are, Marshal Petain wears but one and that the simplest of the lot.

The Marshal's cuff buttons were of white metal. They could not have cost more than a few cents each. His leggings were of the knitted variety.

In short Marshal Petain is a plain but neat soldier utterly without gewgaws and dazle. He carries his brilliancy in his head.

Petain received the American correspondents at Chantilly to talk about his trip to the American Army bases of Supply.

His comparisons were interesting. In the days of Napoleon, he pointed out, when armies numbered about 200,000 and were generally on the move, they lived on the country, needed little transport and few bases. Nowadays armies number millions of men and their movements are comparatively limited. So, after a few days, if they were dependent upon the localities wherein they are operating, they would be foodless and supplyless.

Thus stupendous bases of semi-permanent character are necessary to keep a modern army fed and equipped and between these bases and the front a vast system of transport must be kept circulating.

The backbone of the American "SOS" or "Service of Supplies" the Marshal pointed out, was the ship. Every ton of food and equipment had to be brought across the Atlantic. The three naval bases converged on one central base, at Tours, the southwest of Paris. Reserve depots were located also at other points—but likewise operating through Tours. Thousands of miles of specially laid railways were built connecting the seacoast bases and Tours and Tours with reserve depots and Tours with advanced bases.

"Americans did work in five or six months," declared Petain, "which had been undertaken by the French before the war, would have required five or six years to complete."

The whole work was "a veritable marvel" the Marshal said, and "in every way worthy of all the best traditions of the country which performed them."

"TAILOR BIRD" SEWS
ITS NEST MATERIAL

The "tailor bird" of India is an excellent seamstress. When this bird decides to build a nest it chooses a leaf that suits its purpose and perforates the edges with its beak. Then it takes a long piece of grass fiber and sews the edges together, making a pocket.

If the leaf is not large enough, it is pieced out with another leaf. At the end of the seam the bird makes a knot in the thread to prevent unraveling. This pocket is not the bird's home, however, but only the beginning of it.

The nest is made within the pocket. The end of a slender branch is always selected, and as the leaf retains its natural color the home of the bird is scarcely viewed by its enemies.

DOCTOR'S PATIENT GAINS 17 POUNDS

Prominent Physician Continues to Use Tanlac in Practice With Surprising Results

One of the strongest and most convincing evidences of the remarkable results being accomplished by Tanlac throughout the South is the large number of letters that are now being received daily from scores of well-known men and women who have been benefited by its use.

Among the large number that have been received recently none are more interesting than the following letter from Dr. J. T. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga. Dr. Edwards, it will be remembered, recently gave Tanlac his unqualified endorsement in a public statement, and the testimonial published below was recently given him by one of his patients. His letter follows just as it was written:

Mr. G. F. Willis, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear Sir: I am enclosing you here with statement I have just received from Mr. T. M. McGough. He has sold out here, and is moving to Turin, Ga. He was here this morning, and came in to tell me what Tanlac had done for him. He says too much can't be said about Tanlac. It certainly has cured him.

J. T. EDWARDS, M. D.
Mr. Gough's statement follows: "I suffered from indigestion and could not eat anything but what would hurt me. Constipation gave me a great deal of trouble also. My symptoms were indigestion, heartburn, and gas on the stomach after eating. My appetite was irregular and my food failed to nourish me. This trouble caused me to get very poor—in fact I got so thin and weak I was hardly able to go about."

"I bought three bottles of Tanlac on Dr. Edwards' recommendation, and I am now feeling all right again, and am able to attend to business. I gained seventeen pounds in weight and am doing fine. Tanlac did the work."

"I now recommend Tanlac to everyone who is sick like I was, and wishes to take something that will help them."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hillbert, in Huntington Beach by R. H. NOT DEAD, MAN TELLS
SISTER OVER PHONE

EMPORIA, Kans., May 20.—When Mrs. Clayton Childers of Emporia was called to the telephone at 5 o'clock one morning recently, a voice she thought she recognized asked her what were the chances for getting something to eat, and then she was sure she recognized the voice. It was her brother, Charles Brown, of whose death Mrs. Childers received official notification last autumn.

This report afterwards was disputed and after a letter came from young Brown, dated January 16, this was accepted as fact. Mrs. Childers had heard from him, and at that time he was in a hospital suffering from gunshot wounds.

Another brother of Mrs. Childers was killed in action in France, and another has returned and is at work in Emporia.

GRANT'S PASS, Ore., May 20.—The dreams of an ancient river bed fabulously rich in free gold which had been an obsession of prospectors for half a century have come true.

For more than fifty years miners have believed that if an original channel of the Rogue river in its course flowed the Rogue river in its gravel could be found free gold of untold quantities.

And so it happened that G. M. Esterly, owner of the old Waldo mine south-west of this city, the other day made the greatest strike ever made in this section when he turned gravel for the first time. Esterly's holdings consist of 4200 acres and it is believed that almost every foot of them lie over the old river bed and that nearly all of it is rich in pay dirt.

UTAH NOW ENFORCING
ANTI-CIGARETTE LAW
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 21.—The state agencies having to do with education have started a vigorous campaign for enforcement of the existing anti-cigarette law. One argument helping to defeat the plastic cigarette law in the recent session of the legislature was that existing laws are not enforced.

Francis W. Kirkham, state director of vocational education, has begun a tour of the state explaining to school boards how the present law works. The law makes it a misdemeanor to sell or give cigarettes to persons under 21 years old, and makes it a misdemeanor for a person under 21 to have them in his possession. The offense is punishable by a fine of $100.

Plans For Entertainment of Visitors Are Discussed
Yesterday

At a meeting of the Santa Ana W. C. T. U. yesterday, at the home of Mrs. L. A. Downing, 610 Marion street, delegates from the union to the Southern California state convention of the W. C. T. U. were elected and some further details for the entertainment of the visiting delegates were discussed.

The state convention will be opened here in the First Baptist church, next Tuesday, May 27. The general public is invited to attend any session of the convention.

There will be good speakers, good music and a varied Victory program from Tuesday morning until the close Friday night with a powerful patriotic address by Dr. B. S. Haywood of Riverside.

The committees on Hospitality are as follows:
Chairman, Mrs. E. L. Morrison; Congregational, Mrs. W. B. Tedford; United Presbyterian, Mrs. A. M. Scott; First Baptist, Mrs. Annie Gale; Immanuel Baptist, Mrs. J. H. Scott; South Methodist, Mrs. A. J. Jones; First Presbyterian, Mrs. T. B. Elliott; First Methodist, Mrs. L. B. Dearing; Christian, Mrs. Vance; Reformed Presbyterian, Mrs. L. A. Downie.

It will be difficult for the committees to see every one as to entertainment, and any one who is able to take delegates should telephone to a representative of one of the churches at once. The prices are uniform and will be 50 cents a room for one or more. The price is simply to cover expense of caring for the room.

The following delegates were elected to the state convention: Mrs. A. M. Leonard, Mrs. A. J. Jones, Mrs. Metz, Mrs. E. Ward, Miss Sarah Finley, Mrs. T. B. Elliott, Mrs. Fannie Lasley. Others who are delegates by virtue of their offices are Mrs. W. S. Rose, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Mrs. Lea Warren, Mrs. J. N. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, Mrs. J. H. Scott.

Yesterday's was a mothers' meeting. A number of young mothers were present. The subject for discussion was "Play and Formation of Habits and Character." The program was in charge of Mrs. Metz, superintendent of mothers' meetings. She read an excellent paper on the subject. There was a very interesting discussion by Mrs. Metz, and a very good one by Mrs. Metz.

Forget your cares, see "Who Is the Burglar" at Elks' Hall Wednesday evening.

Order a gallon or brick of Taylor's Ice Cream for Sunday dinner.

FISH NET TANGLED ON PILES OF PIER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 21.—Last Thursday some fishermen from San Pedro with the boat Stella 103, placed a set net just outside the surf line a short distance west of the municipal pier and Friday morning when they came back to take up their net, it had drifted with the tide and about 1000 feet of it was entangled about the piling of the pier.

After pulling and tugging for awhile trying to get the net loose, they left it and did not appear again until the next day, when more of it had washed under the pier. It was what some called a gill net with meshes three and three-quarter inches with double lead line so that it would drag the bottom.

Monday afternoon City Marshal French, assisted by several others, obtained some rope and tackle blocks and tried to remove the net from about the piling as it was a menace to fishing from the pier. They worked nearly all the afternoon and succeeded only in tearing out about 100 feet of netting, and about 500 or 600 feet still remain.

This net will be more or less of an interference with fishing for some time. That portion removed Monday had many kinds of shark, one seal, some fish and numerous crabs and stingrays tangled up in it, together with one mussel hook and one fishing pole with reel attached that had been lost Sunday.

HOW MANY KERNELS OF CORN CAN FOWL EAT?

KANSAS CITY, May 21.—A storekeeper at Montgomery City has sprung a new one in the guessing game. He took a big rooster and, after letting him fast for a day, put him in his show window with a large pan of corn, the kernels of which had been counted.

He offered a prize to the persons guessing nearest the number of grains the rooster would eat in twenty minutes. The rooster had a ravenous appetite and for five minutes it looked as if there would not be a single kernel left.

But by the time the twenty minutes had elapsed he had curled up in a corner. He had succeeded in putting away 486 grains. A woman whose guess was 488 got the prize.

Orange City Treasurer Must Pay Warrant

ORANGE, May 21.—That the city council of Orange was acting within the law when it purchased a city hall site by resolution of the board instead of by the adoption of an ordinance, is the conclusion of the Court of Appeals, Division No. 1, rendered in Los Angeles yesterday.

The city purchased three lots at the corner of Chapman and Center streets some weeks ago, the purchase being authorized by a formal resolution. At a regular meeting of the council a warrant was ordered drawn for $3150 in payment for the property.

City Treasurer W. E. Clement refused to honor the warrant, on the ground that the proceedings were irregular. City Attorney Garrett took the position that the proceedings were regular and he was authorized to institute suit to force payment. The decision yesterday is the result.

"If a city treasurer can thus hold up city warrants regularly issued, he could run the city and put the trustees in the discard," declared City Attorney Garrett today. "Our contention is that it is the treasurer's duty, by virtue of his office, to pay any warrant signed by the president and attested by the clerk, where the purpose stated is a lawful one and he has surplus money in the fund designated. In such case the decision of the Board of Trustees is conclusive upon him."

The treasurer honored the first warrant drawn on April 7th for the same purpose, but refused to honor the warrant for the same purpose drawn on April 14. If the treasurer complies with the writ at once, no further legal proceedings will be necessary. Considerable delay already has been occasioned by his action.

Woman's Club Musicales

An excellent musical program was given at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club, under the able direction of Miss Adelaide Proctor. The first part of the program was given over to brief sketches of American composers, read by members of the club.

The musical numbers were all works of American composers. Mrs. Evangeline Perry Sumner of Santa Ana gave as solos, "From the Land of Sky Blue Water," "Thy Beaming Eyes," and "The Tranquil Water Lily," each number being greatly appreciated.

Miss Geiger contributed two characteristic piano solos, "Impromptu" and "Character Etude," giving as an encore the "Valse Caprice." Mrs. Sumner gave another group of songs graciously responding to an encore. She was accompanied by Miss Phyllis Keyes, her rare ability as a pianist adding to the already artistic performance of the soloist.

Ralph E. Boggs sang "And Yet," with violin obligato by Miss Esther Boggs, piano accompaniment by Miss Adelaide Proctor, which was well received, as was his number, "The Americans Come." Mr. Boggs also responded to an encore.

Soldier Guest at Turkey Dinner

Henry C. Meehan was guest of honor at a delightful six o'clock dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Robbins, by the postoffice employees. Two delicious turkeys graced the tables at the appointed hour, but by the assistance of Mr. Meehan and Postmaster Fullerton, these were shattered as with shrapnel and soon disappeared as hunks before the Yanks.

Floral designs of the American flag were used for table decorations. Patriotic colors were carried out through the last course.

The place cards, featuring a soldier ready for action, were the artistic work of Miss Thompson.

The house was decorated with the national colors.

After dinner the evening passed rapidly with music and other diversions. The guests, the post office employees and their families, numbered twenty-four.

Y. W. C. A. Fund

As some of the pledges were not due until May the results of the National Y. W. C. A. drive held in March, for one million dollars to support a number of permanent hostess houses in army camps, are just being turned in.

It is hoped through this drive it will be possible to start a town and county Y. W. C. A. similar to the Y. M. C. A.
